Goldfish Aspire To World's Record In Ice Navigation

Six ambitious goldfish at the Stanley B. Smith home managed a glimpse at a recent paper.

"What?" they cried, "A fish makes headlines by reviving after 40 minutes in freezing dry air! A mere nothing."

And they set out to prove their point.

When young Albert Smith investigated his bowl of goldfish Tuesday morning he discovered the water in it frozen into a solid block of ice, which enclosed the apparently dead goldfish in a frigid cage.

He prepared himself for a goldfish funeral but at the crucial moment his mother appeared with hot water and a few implements for prying out the fish. A short application was enough. The thawed-out sextet flapped their tails and took up life again.

"Forty minutes?" they jeered. "A whole night of freezing doesn't worry us. We should make the headlines, too."

And they did.

High Basketball Teams Encounter Mountain View

JUNIOR DE VAUGHN CELEBRATES 13TH BIRTHDAY WED.

Junior DeVaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DeVaughn, celebrated his thirteenth birthday Wednesday with a party given at his Campbell home.

The happy young people who gathered in Junior's honor enjoyed games until 6 o'clock when dinner was served at a table decorated in gala Christmas style.

Among the guests were Yvonne Kile, Doris Smith, Patsy Kile, Dorothy Penhall, Willard Gilbert, Robert Lowry, and Jack Lowry.

Lawrence Hendricks Elected Master Of Local Grange

Lawrence Hendricks, prominent rancher on the Los Gatos road, was unanimously elected worthy master of the Orchard City grange at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers chosen by the members are: Leland Jones, overseer; Mrs. Jessie McChesney, lecturer; Werner Raab, steward; Fred Hubback, assistant steward; Mrs. Robert Parkhill, chaplain; Chauncey Watson, gatekeeper; Mrs. A. C. Keesling, secretary; Elias K. Clendenning, treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Hendricks, Ceres; Mrs. Leland Jones, Pomona; Mrs. M. F. Hughes, Flora; Miss Evelyn Voge, lady assistant steward; W. H. Woodbury, executive committee member; Mrs. Harry Barnes, musician.

Three new members were given the obligation for the first and second degree by Mrs. E. K. Clendenning. They are Fred E. Long, Lute F. White, and E. A. Price.

Mrs. Fremont Older talked on roses and gardens of the California missions at the open lecturer's hour preceding the business meeting Tuesday night. Vividly she described her journey up and down the state gathering cuttings of mission roses for the Municipal Rose garden at San Jose.

"San Jose," she asserted, "has the honor of being the oldest town in California. It is even older than Los Angeles, which is second in antiquity. Santa Cruz, once the Villa Bonceyforte, is third oldest."

One of the most fascinating mission towns in the state, in the opinion of Mrs. Older, is San Juan Bautista, where interesting old adobe houses and the oldest hotel in the state are to be found.

A particularly romantic mission is that at San Luis Obispo, where, Mrs. Older recounted, a legendary beautiful girl is supposed to have lived who, when disappointed in love, spent the rest of her life on the hillsides planting flowers.

A banner used by the Padres in teaching the Indians, with the devil on one side and a madonna on the other, aroused the interest of Mrs. Older when she visited the Ventura mission. At Santa Barbara she was allowed a glimpse of the sacred garden, into which but one woman, and she a president's wife, had ever passed.

STITCHING CLUB MAKES MERRY AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

Yuletide festivities were enjoyed by members of the Ada Rebekah Stitching club today when Mrs. E. W. Ohlen, Mrs. Jack B. Scott, and Mrs. Julius Bachman acted as hostesses at the annual Christmas party held at the I. O. O. F. hall.

The party's atmosphere was gay. Holiday greenery and a beautifully decorated and lighted Christmas tree decorated the hall. Gifts were exchanged among the members.

During the afternoon over 40 neckties were wrapped for the boys at the Rebekah orphan home in Gilroy.

Spicy plum pudding and coffee were served by the hostesses in the late afternoon and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Pastor and Wife Made U.S. Citizens By Judge R. Syer

Their many friends are welcoming the Rev. J. H. Bennett, pastor of the Congregational church, and Mrs. Bennett, his wife, into United States citizenship, since they successfully met the requirements for the honor when they gathered with a large group of persons before Judge R. R. Syer in San Jose Monday.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett, who six years ago came directly from London work to his duties in the local church, delayed taking out his citizenship papers until his wife, who arrived in America later, was able to apply too.

BREAKERS AHEAD?

Now that the effects of the election have worn off and they are faced with the cold gray dawn of the morning after in the guise of the short session of Congress there naturally is not much unrestrained enthusiasm among Democratic leaders as there was during the few hours following November 8. They realize of course that there is a great deal of difference between promising and performing. A great deal of reckless promising was done, as is usually the case in heated campaigns and as a result a great many people expected that by the first of the year at least, there would be plenty of beer and prosperity. Now the Democratic leaders are admitting that it may take a little longer to restore prosperity than March 4, and that perhaps after all the depression is due to natural causes following the World War and not to President Hoover.

The first efforts of the Democratic leaders are being made toward keeping down factional differences so far as possible. Just how effective their measures will be remains to be seen. A great many people in the East are expecting a conservative administration from the new President because of the part Owen D. Young, Barney Baruch and Al Smith took in his campaign. Out on the boundless prairies, however, there is a general expectancy that the new administration will listen to the program of men like Senator Norris and Senator Wheeler. Some body is going to be disappointed during the next two years.

Another danger which the Democrats face is that which usually comes from a landslide—that is an unwieldy majority. Already there are indications that trouble is coming in the shape of visionary proposals to end the depression. These can doubtless be handled in the short session of the old Congress, but when the new Congress begins to function the ship of state will be launched on uncertain waters and uncharted seas. There is little wonder, therefore, that President-elect Roosevelt would like to avoid an extra session if possible. Among the drives for new and startling legislation can be listed that of Representative Rankin of Mississippi, a Democrat with influence in the House of Representatives. Mr. Rankin wants currency inflation to the extent of two billions of dollars. He wants to balance the federal budget by printing enough paper oney to take care of the deficit. How easy it would be if the government could end its troubles through the printing press!

The old proposal for paying the bonus by printing paper money with which to do it, and for an appropriation of five billions of dollars to be covered by a bond issue, to stimulate government work, will be revived in the short session and doubtless carried over into the new Congress.

Under the plan of the big loan advocates public works in all states would be started at once to relieve employment. Nobody has yet figured out exactly how much employment this would create, what the issuance of these bonds would do to the financial fabris of the country, or just how the overburdened taxpayers could eventually raise the money to pay interest and principal on the bonds.

Truly there are many shoals ahead. It will be the duty and effort of the Republican legislators in the next administration to help the enactment of sane and constructive measures and to block as far as possible the destructive ones.

HANDWRITING FOR TAX MAKERS

When the Post Office Department admits that three cents first-class letter postage has failed to yield an increase in revenue, and has actually caused a decrease, it submits to the law of diminishing returns. You can't make a taxpayer write letters and you can't make him use a three-cent stamp when he can use a one-cent postcard.

Congress should bear these experiences in mind when it prepares its next tax bill. It will have to make its basis of taxation so broad and spread it so thinly over a variety of articles, that it will scarcely be felt. Otherwise, taxes will decline because an over-taxed people will deny themselves exorbitantly taxed products.

THE OTHER HALF

California's lost its balminess. And most of its inhabitants have lost their money. The combination is not a good one.

In Campbell alone many families shivered through the last week's cold spell. Using fuel collected by much effort in sawdust piles and brush piles they've been forced to content themselves with skimpy food and thin clothing.

And the winter has just begun.

The Community Chest, unusually capably handled in Campbell, is taxing its funds and its workers' time to the utmost. Many needy cases have been aided; but others are not reported. Cooperation of other community organizations and aid by other workers is needed.

Campbell's youngsters must not grow up with bitterness due to precarious youth. Campbell's men and women must be given courage to enable them to be upstanding community citizens. Everyone who has a bit of spare time or a superfluity of material goods will wish to aid the less fortunate youth and adults of the neighborhood.

A few definite suggestions? That wood you trimmed off the orchard trees will warm blue hands. All those old clothes in the attic will help shield their new wearers from the too-prevalent north winds. Did you can too much jam? The welfare workers of the town will welcome, and need, all aid, material or personal.

POLITICS AND DEBTS

The world is now being disturbed by another period of discussion of the inability of various nations to pay the sums they owe the United States for war debts.

The sad part of the situation is that in most of the nations involved the issue is being handled as a political, rather than as a purely business transaction.

Undoubtedly some nations are entitled to an extension of credit but when they ask for it, other nations immediately demand the same concessions for fear their neighbors will get something they don't.

So-called diplomacy and cheap politics prevent consideration of debts owed the United States, on a business basis, in accordance with each debtor's ability to pay.

If foreign debts could be handled as are private debts and the curse of politics eliminated, world peace would be a thousand years nearer, international strife would be reduced to a minimum and our loans would be more secure. Foreign debtors would then pay in accordance with their ability and those that were bankrupt would be treated in accordance with bankruptcy proceedings, and those that were solvent would enjoy the rewards of solvency.

GOING SHOPPING?

With comparatively few shopping days remaining between now and Christmas, we believe that the "trade at home policy" of Campbell merchants be given a little publicity.

Not a great deal of money will be spent this Christmas. Be that as it may it is up to us to give local merchants first chance at our business, to the end that part of the money may remain in town.

There are any number of things for sale in local stores. Shopping for the entire family is possible here, and buyers will find merchants courteous and eager to please. Keep your dollars at home.

And right here it might be a good idea to remind Campbell merchants that this trade at home racket applies to them just as much as it does to the general public. Nothing hurts the prestige of a "trade at home" campaign so much as for a local business man to come rolling home from San Jose with the back of his automobile piled high with groceries. What's sauce for the goose is often strawberry shortcake for the gander.

SOMETHING WORTH THINKING ABOUT

Advocates of the St. Lawrence Shipway base their arguments on the grounds that its construction would mean tremendous savings to farmers and other shippers.

The annual cost to the government of the shipway would be from $27,000,000 to $43,000,000. If this amount were paid to the railroads, they would be able to haul FREE all the grain that would move through that waterway and still have a substantial balance left over.

Over a period of years, the waterway would cost us hundreds of millions of dollars. It would further depress our greatest industry—the railroads. In the opinion of many economists, it would be of little benefit. Isn't it time we did some thinking about it before going farther?

BE PREPARED FOR "COLD PEAK" WEATHER WITH CAREFREE GAS HEAT

AN ABUNDANCE OF HEAT WITHOUT BASEMENT WORK

THERE is no doubt about it — no man likes the chore of fuel carrying, fire building and waste disposal that hand-fired heating equipment demands. It is an especially disagreeable task when a dead fire demands attention after one has had a hard day's work in office, shop, or field.

Get rid of fire stoking and stove cleaning. Heat your home the clean, convenient, modern way, with Controlled Gas heat that gives to every room even "Comfort Zone" warmth at a finger's touch of electric button, key, or automatic thermostat.

The difficult heating season is with us now, months of "Cold Peak" weather. Perhaps last winter you fired up your present heating plant to the limit, but still the house was cold. Change now to gas heating equipment and presto! an abundance of heat is yours to command. Economical, clean heat flowing into every room of your house without worry or work.

Won't you investigate the type of gas heating equipment your home needs? Ask a representative of this company or consult your local gas heating dealer, and have them give you an estimate for gas heating equipment in your home. Only a small cash deposit is necessary while the balance may be spread over a long period of time.

Natural Gas will maintain this "Comfort Zone" 71° 65° at low cost

CONTROLLED HEAT
With gas fuel you can have maximum heat instantly available and keep it regulated to any temperature desired. Controlled heat from gas heating equipment is possible by merely turning a valve or handle, by pressing a button to get high, low or medium heat, or by setting an electric thermostat to automatically maintain any desired temperature.

THE FARMERS CORNER

By Ralph H. Taylor

General farm legislation thus far proposed includes:

Several measures intended to solve the problem of motor truck regulation, which promises to be one of the most bitterly-fought problems of the session. The necessity for cheap transportation, especially at this time, when farm products are bringing so little return, is apparent. On the other hand, California farmers, shipping $180,000,000 worth of perishable products to interstate destinations yearly, have a definite interest in maintaining long distance railroad transportation. One of the proposals, advanced by the State railroad commission, is that all carriers, except strictly private carriers, be required to secure a certificate of public covenience before they can use the highways for long hauls.

Legislation to secure a reasonable interpretation of existing laws with regard to the liability of owners of livestock found on public highways. Cattlemen have been frequently penalized by juries, in the past, despite lack of any proof of negligence.

Attempts by sportsmen's groups to amend the trespass laws, apparently on the theory that the city man has a right to the posession of his property undisturbed, but that the same rule does not apply to the owner of rural property.

The new, compact farm code, embracing all of the state's agricultural laws; new standardization, inspection and marketing measures, together with many other bills affecting agriculture either directly or indirectly, will constitute other features of the farm legislative program.

A program directed by Mrs. Harry James, intermediate teacher of the Cambrian school, was presented at the meeting of the Cambrian Home and School club last Wednesday, at which Mrs. Ira McConnell, president, presided.

A card party to be held in January was arranged. Mrs. E. C. Young was appointed as representative to attend a lecture on the results of the child welfare conference.

After the business meeting the Mesdames Maynard Knopf, Stephen Drake, and R. Ragnacci, the afternoon's hostesses, served refreshments.
